Welcome to the Sainsbury Museum and Art Centre Sculpture Park. Step outside and meet art in the open air. Our Sculpture Park is set within 100 acres of parkland that's open to everyone to enjoy art, architecture and the natural world.

The works here have been chosen to belong where they stand. Discover sculpture at home by the museum, among the modernist architecture of the University of East Anglia campus, and in the peaceful beauty of the Yare River valley.

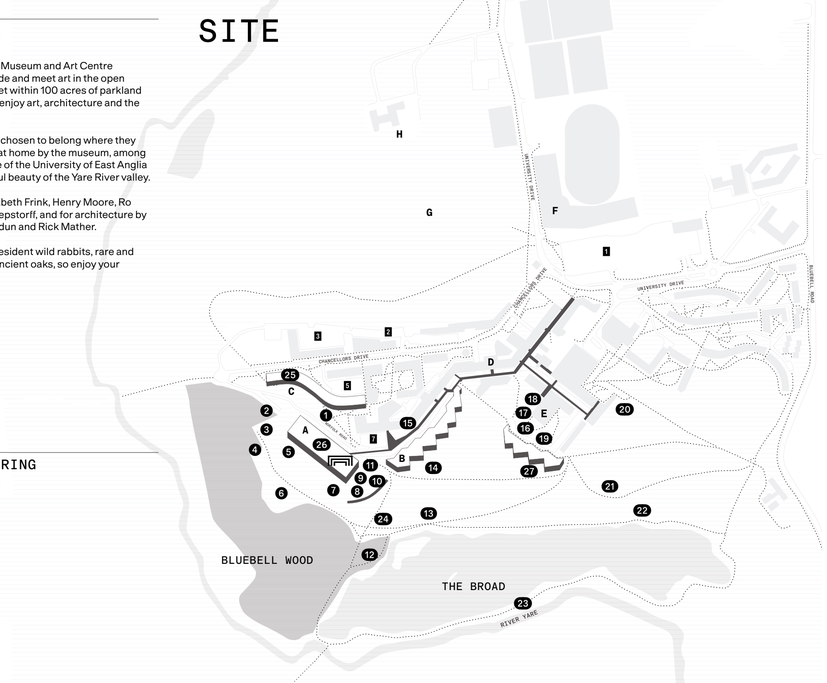

Look out for works by Elisabeth Frink, Henry Moore, Ro Robertson and Kirstine Roepstorff, and for architecture by Norman Foster, Denys Lasdun and Rick Mather.

You'll share the park with resident wild rabbits, rare and endangered species and ancient oaks, so enjoy your outdoor art adventure.

Art Lives Here.
